The enclosed response was received from the White House to our invitation to President Reagan to address the AFIO tenth national Convention on October 20, 1984.

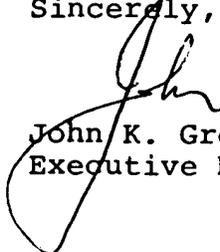

We were pleased that it was not a negative response as we understand the President's busy schedule. It would be appreciated by all AFIO members if you have the opportunity to support the AFIO invitation with Mr. Deaver at the White House.

The President has asked me to thank you for inviting him to address the Association of former Intelligence Officers' 10th annual convention on October 19-20 in Rockville, Maryland.

We know you will understand that we are unable to project the President's schedule this far in advance. Particular notation is being made of your invitation, however, and nearer the date we will be back in touch with you about the possibility of his acceptance. In the meantime, please know your thoughtfulness of the President is most appreciated.

Dear Bill,

You may recall that at the reception on the day of the ground-breaking ceremony I mentioned to you that we in AFIO were hoping to have the President come to our Convention banquet on October 20, 1984 at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Rockville, Maryland. This is a copy of the letter Dick Larkin sent to the White House. We would appreciate any help you could give us with regard to the invitation.

A formal invitation for you and Mrs. Casey will be forthcoming and I hope that your schedule is open for October 20th.

Sincerely,

My Dear Mr. President:

At the ground-breaking ceremony for the new CIA facility on May 24, you referred to Intelligence as the "Eyes and Ears of the Free World". We believe you will be pleased to learn that our organization, The Association of Former Intelligence Officers, has adopted your words as the theme for our tenth annual convention to be held at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Rockville, Maryland on 19 and 20 October.

This group of former intelligence professionals was formed in 1975 because its founders recognized a desperate need to defend the active intelligence community from the widespread attacks of the media, certain congressmen, and extremist groups who were determined to destroy our "first line of defense." That handful of "defenders" has now grown into a responsible and credible association of former officials from every intelligence organization in the U.S. government. Nation-wide, and in our second or third careers, we are dedicated solely to the development of a national understanding of the need for an effective intelligence capability for our country.

It is our custom each year to invite the officials who are currently heading the components of the U.S. Intelligence Community to our concluding banquet, there to join with the intelligence leadership and officials of past years. We would be most highly honored if you and Mrs. Reagan could attend this gathering, and if you would consent to address our assembly. While your D-Day Remembrance interview with Walter Cronkite indicates you have more than casual qualifications for membership in our group, your words and actions in office have established beyond a doubt that you agree with the aims of our Association, and the necessity for it.

We recognize that the 20th of October lies in the midst of very busy times for you and Mrs. Reagan. Whether or not you can attend our function, we would like you to know how deeply we appreciate the support you have provided the Intelligence Community — "The Eyes and Ears of the Free World."

Respectfully,
